INTIMATIONS.

EXAMPLES OF THE COST OF INSURANCE TO A MAN AGED 30 NEXT BIRTHDAY.

£1,000 STG. payable at death, would cost at the rate of—

£ 6 18 0 per quarter (a) If premiums are payable for whole of life, or £ 9 11 6 " (b) If premiums are limited to 20 years, or £ 11 4 6 " (c) If premiums are limited to 15 years, or £ 13 0 0 " (d) If the sum assured is made payable at 50, or at death if previous."

After being three years in force, each additional payment of premium causes a proportionate price of sum assured as explained in Prospects. For instance, after five years a man assured under plan b would be entitled to a Free Paid-up Policy for 5/20th of sum assured, viz. £250, should he wish to discontinue future payments.

The same provisions, if commenced at age 40, b. would cost respectively (a) £15,150, (b) £15,60, (c) £23,748.8 p.a.

Notes.—It is an advantage to effect provisions of this nature early in life. By delay the rate of subscription increases; Death may occur before the provision is effected, or Health may fail and render the life ineligible for assurance.

News.

The application made to the viceroy by several merchants for permission to open a factory for making foreign paper has been sanctioned, and an establishment is shortly to be opened at Shantou, in the Nankin district.

At Shao-ting, during the military examination, three candidates who had no chance of success endeavoured by intimidation and extortion to prevent an able competitor from entering the list. In order to obviate complications the money demanded was paid, but when the bullion insisted upon keeping him out and assaulted him seriously, the officials placed the men in custody pending the recovery of the victim. As a compensation for his hard lot he has been granted the rank of Hsien-tai without having gone through the formality of the examination.

Two notorious kidnappers were arrested by the braves at the sitting station, and on examination having pleaded guilty, they are to undergo capital punishment.

A female passenger on board one of the river steamers was driven by despair, consequent upon the disappearance of her fiancé, to jump into the river with a view to commit suicide. A man happened to be close to where she fell, and rescuing her the sampan people took her to a charitable institution, where she received timely help.

A raid was made by the savage tribes on the San-ching city, and a sharp contest took place between them and the volunteers, which lasted from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., the number of dead left on the field being considerable.

KOREA.

CHINULPO, 22nd February. There is very little news to communicate. I am of opinion that Judge Donny will be U.S. Minister to China in March, for it is quite possible that the Chinese Government has, with a view to get him out of Korea, induced the Foreign Office to give him the appointment of Consul-General. I hope it will be Mr. P. G. von Mühlenhoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston arrived per Kuan-chi. He is an addition to the Customs force from China. He came direct from Chinkow, where he married a few days ago. Mr. Schenck, whose leave is said to be due, will probably leave us early. It is to be hoped that Sir Robert will remain here in his present post, where he is a great favorite.

Mr. Kobayashi, who used to be Consul here, is now Principal of a large College in Kyoto. Mercury Correspondent.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING IN 1888.

The historian of the future will probably date the introduction of electric lighting upon a grand scale from the year 1888, and from the passage of the Electric Lighting Amendment Act; and in commencing our review of the electrical events of the year this is naturally the point from which we start. This important measure was introduced into the House of Lords by Lord Thurlow in May, and finally passed into law on June 18. It is well known that the Act provides for an extension of the period before the compulsory purchase clause of the Act of 1883 becomes operative from twenty-one to forty-two years, and it also modifies the terms of purchase in favour of the contractors by the introduction of the clause which first engaged the attention of the world. What was the exact bearing and value of the increased concession still remains to be discovered. The acceptance of this, or some very similar measure of relief, having long been regarded as a foreseen conclusion, even at the commencement of the year, many schemes were already afoot for the establishment of central lighting stations and for the formation of electricity supply companies, chiefly within the metropolitan area. The passing of the bill, however, has not yet been followed by an outbreak of activity in this direction, and it is satisfactory to note that up to the present the movement has, upon the whole, proceeded upon perfectly sound and healthy lines. Whilst there has been no sign whatever of the inflation which characterized the impulsive schemes and profligate financial ideas in 1882, yet there has been little or no diminution in the enthusiasm of the majority of the undertakings now in progress, more than one instance, including that of the largest scheme afoot—the whole of the capital has been raised by private subscription, and the public have not even been asked to contribute; in other cases a large proportion of the funds are held by leading companies or firms of electrical engineers. This must certainly be considered a healthy and satisfactory feature.—The Electricalian.

CARNATIONS.

(A. Sivertsen: Flora d'Asia)

The autumn pink whose猩undy head
Is perfumed, bears in its pride
Of purple veins, a fragrant tide
Of frosty blood, from heart's long dead.

Benzoin blossoms!—No, the pink which shortlived flight
Nor'st even to height when heavenly height,
But keeps them where the tempest rolls.

Despite the vivid hints they bring,
And which then seem'd with admiration,
Puck not the autumnal carnation,
For your young heart is full of spring!

The mind with aspiration goes
Away towards pale sunset skies,
With colors of the early rose,
If then wouldst have a living red,
To brighten it, then sickle leaves
With his blood, ere it receives
The boon of crowning thy fair head.

The autumn pink whose猩undy head
Is perfumed, bears in its pride
Of purple veins, a noxious tide
Of frosty blood, from heart's long dead.

The acceptance of this, or some very similar measure of relief, having long been regarded as a foreseen conclusion, even at the commencement of the year, many schemes were already afoot for the establishment of central lighting stations and for the formation of electricity supply companies, chiefly within the metropolitan area. The passing of the bill, however, has not yet been followed by an outbreak of activity in this direction, and it is satisfactory to note that up to the present the movement has, upon the whole, proceeded upon perfectly sound and healthy lines. Whilst there has been no sign whatever of the inflation which characterized the impulsive schemes and profligate financial ideas in 1882, yet there has been little or no diminution in the enthusiasm of the majority of the undertakings now in progress, more than one instance, including that of the largest scheme afoot—the whole of the capital has been raised by private subscription, and the public have not even been asked to contribute; in other cases a large proportion of the funds are held by leading companies or firms of electrical engineers. This must certainly be considered a healthy and satisfactory feature.—The Electricalian.

CHINULPO. 22nd February.

There is very little news to communicate. I am of opinion that Judge Donny will be U.S. Minister to China in March, for it is quite possible that the Chinese Government has, with a view to get him out of Korea, induced the Foreign Office to give him the appointment of Consul-General. I hope it will be Mr. P. G. von Mühlenhoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston arrived per Kuan-chi.

He is an addition to the Customs force from China. He came direct from Chinkow, where he married a few days ago. Mr. Schenck, whose leave is said to be due, will probably leave us early. It is to be hoped that Sir Robert will remain here in his present post, where he is a great favorite.

Mr. Kobayashi, who used to be Consul here, is now Principal of a large College in Kyoto. Mercury Correspondent.
